On October 8, 2013 Zambian time, NFC Africa Plc (NFCA), an enterprise of CNMCL in Zambia, operating in Kalulushi District held a joint handover ceremony of the Security wall to government and a Grader to Kalulushi Municipal Council.

In attendance were some members of the NFCA Management which included Executive Deputy Chief Executive Officer Zhang Jinjun and Deputy CEO Zhou Liang. Others were several Zambian government officials which included Labour Deputy Minister Rayford Mbulu, Copperbelt Permanent Secretary Stanford M'schili, Kampamba Mulenga Kalulushi District Commissioner, Kalulushi Mayor Howard Simpemba and Kalulushi Town Clerk E.N Mumba among others.

Addressing the gathering, NFCA Executive Deputy CEO Zhang Jinjun expressed gratitude to the Zambian government for the support it has continued to render to NFCA in its operation and development.

Mr. Jinjun pointed out that in spite of a depressed world economy and a continuous decline in copper prices on the international market, NFCA remains a responsible investor that will continue to implement all relevant measures to fulfill its Corporate Social Responsibilities aimed at benefitting the locals while seeking non-stop development.

The two items are valued at a total cost of over 940,000 Kwacha (about 183,000 USD) and are expected to play a positive role in providing the much needed security at the government offices in Kalulushi as well as promote economic development through agricultural activities when a good road network has been provided.

Some local media namely; ZNBC, Post Newspaper, Times of Zambia and Radio Icengelo covered the handover ceremony.
